

Caitlin C. Fahey is an award-winning cabaret singer and dramaturg for solo performers. Dedicated to the preservation of the American Songbook, she is equally at home in the archives as she is on stage sharing forgotten treasures she's found in her research. Her debut cabaret show Party of One premiered in New York City, winning the 2017 BroadwayWorld Cabaret Award for best debut and a 2018 MAC Award nomination. In 2020, she was nominated for a BroadwayWorld Cabaret Award for Best Vocalist for her work in Blake Allen's An Evening With...Series. As a cabaret performer, she's appeared at prestigious New York City venues such as Birdland Theater, Don't Tell Mama, Feinstein's 54 Below, Green Room 42, The Iridium, and The Metropolitan Room. Her dramaturg clients have appeared at venues across the U.S. such as California Center for the Arts, Delaware Theatre Company, Maltz Jupiter Theater, and Papermill Playhouse.
